

Yangling, China, 21 December, 2020

Ladies and Gentlemen,

On behalf of Organizing Committee we are honored to invite you to participate in the 1st Congress “Symposium on Veterinary Science and Pigeon Health” of the Chinese Branch of International Veterinary Pigeons Association which will be held in China during 1-2th March, 2021. As the Chairman of the Chinese Branch of International Veterinary Pigeons Association, I am absolutely convinced that it will be perfect opportunity to exchange experiences, develop new partnerships and attend great lectures.

The oversea guest speakers will make their presentations by online meeting due to the 2019-nCoV. The language of the meeting should be in English and Chinese (we will help to translate the PPT information into Chinese, please sent us the presentations at least before 15th Feb, 2021), bilingual PPT edition. Each presentation should be limited within 30 minutes (25 minutes for presentation, plus 5 minutes for questions and discussions).The congress will also be webcast live from the website. A link to each webcast will be posted for the future record.

Conference will be taken place in Yangling International Convention Exhibition Hotel, conveniently connected to Northwest A&F University! Our university is always fascinating place to see. We encourage you to acquaint with landmarked buildings and the beautiful campus.

We look forward to welcoming you to Yangling, Xi'an, China.

On behalf of Organization Committee,

Prof. Chengbao Wang
